The Store where You are Satisfied

The Law Of Progress

is as unchangeable as the famous laws of the Medes and the Persians.

The individual who spends more than he earns—or, as if far too often the case, spends all before he earns—travels in a hopeless circle. He cannot advance, and "he who does not advance, recedes."

The person who saves BEFORE he spends inevitably registers progress. Why not put the principle to the test?

Cotton Seed Meal

We will have a car in a few days. The Price is Right. See us. THE PEOPLES STORE & SUPPLY COMPANY'S Marlinton, W. Va.

Cards are out announcing the engagement of Miss Veeda R. Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cooper, of Cass, W. Va., to Benjamin Greenburg, of Washington, D. C. No special date for the wedding has been set.

HILLSBORO

We are having very cold weather, but have had some fine fall and winter weather up to this time.

Charles LaRue is slowly recovering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Wallace Beard has been very ill but is improving.

Clyde Grimes moved to our town last week from Lobelia. We are always glad to have some one move to our town.

Earl Beard is home from the University.

Earl Carlisle was called home on account of his sister being ill, who is in the Marlinton Hospital.

Howard Spencer has been confined to his room for a few days with measles. We hope he will soon be out again.

W. J. Fowler is laying the foundation for his new house.

HILLSBORO HIGH SCHOOL English IV Class

Friday evening, Nov. 12th the Greenbank High School basket ball team was here. Even though the weather was unfavorable a goodly sized crowd saw the game. We won by the close score of 12 to 10. The game was a hard fought one from start to finish as ever player of both teams did good work.

Saturday night, November 13 our team played the Durbin team on our floor. We were again victorious.

Friday night, after the game with Greenbank, the first social of the year was given by the high school in honor of the visiting team. The occasion was a very enjoyable one to all present. We may expect some of our visitors back again whether we play basket ball again this season or not.

Chapel services were conducted Monday, Nov. 15, by Rev. J. C. Johnson of the Presbyterian church. He gave a very interesting talk on "The Value of Friendship."

Dr. Light, a visiting minister from Marlinton conducted Chapel services Monday. He told three Bible stories in a most interesting style. Dr. Light is here helping to conduct the revival at the Methodist church.

The Normal Training class will begin observation work in the grades this week.

The Shakespeare and Browning Literary Societies gave their second programs of the year Friday afternoon. The work is going well.

The grades for the second month are out. We are not telling about all of them. We hope to make them more nearly approach the limit of 100 in the very near future.

Thanksgiving vacation will begin Wednesday evening and last until Monday. Some students and teachers expect to spend the time hunting.

Mr. Rouzer of the State Vocational Agriculture board, visited the school Monday.

The Marlinton Electric Company have accepted the agency for the Hule automobile.

THANKSGIVING OFFERING APPEAL BY DAVIS CHILD SHELTER

The above society was organized in 1896 for the care and training of the orphan and homeless children of all West Virginia.

Shortly after organization the late Hon. H. G. Davis, the great friend of West Virginia orphans, gave the Society a home for the unfortunate little ones, which is located in Charleston, W. Va., supplementing this generous gift by the yet more helpful donation of $100 per month since 1896. To this first building Mr. Davis has added a two-story building, thus greatly increasing our capacity for caring for orphan children.

Into this Home, named Davis Child Shelter in honor of its generous donor we have gathered 1009 homeless little ones in whose behalf we make this earnest appeal for Thanksgiving Offering. We need to accumulate a surplus fund for winter supplies, and to carry the Child Rescue Work far into the new year. We would like to give an extended account of what the rescue of these 1009 homeless orphans means to the State, society and especially to themselves, but space will not allow. We appeal to every patriotic citizen to send a liberal Thanksgiving offering to the undersigned.

DWIGHT NOTTINGHAM

On last Wednesday the body of Dwight Nottingham was buried at Seebert, the funeral being conducted from the Seebert Methodist church.

The young man was the son of Mrs. J. E. Hite and her husband, the late Emmett Nottingham. His age was twenty years, and he died at Akron, Ohio, on November 13, from a pistol wound inflicted by his own hand on November 10, while mentally unbalanced. Before his death, he regained his mind, and could give no reason for his rash act. Not being able to recall anything about it.

No young man had more to live for than Dwight Nottingham. Being refused permission to volunteer in the late war on account of his youth, he went into the railroad work and advanced so rapidly that he was promoted to the important position of locomotive engineer before his twentieth birthday. He literally worked day and night at his job and at his studies, and accomplished in a few months what usually takes as many years. The result was a breakdown. Following a night of study, on Tuesday November 9, he went out on an extremely hard run, and came back that night utterly exhausted. Hardly had he gotten to bed when he was called out to take an engine on another hard run. His friends noticed that he acted in a peculiar manner, but his run was made in safety as his was the second engine in a double header. Soon after returning to his room, a shot was heard, and young Nottingham was found with a bullet hole in his left breast. Dwight's mother, Mrs. J. E. Hite, was notified and she was with her son for two days before he died. The last day he was perfectly rational, deplored the act and witnessed a happy profession of his faith.

Dwight Nottingham was to have been married shortly and had saved enough money to buy a fine home.

Mrs. Alice B. Welton, of Piedmont agent for the State Board of Children's Guardians for the district composed of the counties of Pocahontas, Randolph, Tucker and Grant, was here last week to investigate the conditions of a family which had been reported as in bad circumstances.

Mrs. Welton also has to do with the finding of homes for children who are taken to the State home for children at Elkins. This home can take care of only 60 children, and of necessity it is but a clearing house where poor children can be cared for until proper homes can be found for them. Any one desiring to adopt a child is asked to communicate with Mrs. Welton, at Piedmont. She would also like to be notified of any case of neglected children, orphans with no one to care for them, children in unfit homes, whose parents cannot or will not bring them up properly.

The State Board of Children's Guardians succeeds the State Humane Society by a recent act of the legislature, and is doing a good systematic work for the neglected children of the State, although much hampered by an insufficient appropriation.
